Gmail New Mail Alarm is an application designed to inform you about any new messages you receive via Gmail using desktop notifications. You have to enter your Gmail credentials and you are set to go. It really is that simple! Quick setup and forthright configuration The installation is quick, straightforward and does not require any special attention on your part. Upon launch, you are welcomed by a minimalistic interface that displays all available features and functions. Configuration-wise, you will be happy to learn that you only need to enter your Gmail credentials and you are set. While the application can be minimized, it would have been nice if the utility could be sent to System Tray completely. The feature would be especially important for users who are running multiple applications and need to switch between them quite often. In addition, it would be useful if the program enabled you to add more Gmail accounts. Allows you to preview the messages The idea behind the application is to provide you with a desktop notification each time you receive a new email. You can configure it to play a sound, in case you want to make sure you do miss the message. The alert is displayed in a pop-up window that includes basic data that can help you distinguish between critical and less important messages. In other words, you can preview the name, address and the subject of the email within the notification. The same information is provided when you access the Show New Mail(s) button and you can preview the content by clicking on it. On the other hand, you should keep in mind that you cannot view or download attachments attached to the message. Google Play Pros The app doesn't take up much memory. The program is simple and does what it is designed to do.
Cons The app can be launched by mistake, the delay between app notifications and notification on the desktop is not predictable. Reviews By 10/20/2016 Must have for every Gmail user By SCREENSHOT : By TENOUSESCU :
Reviews on Google Play Helpful app to track new mails in Gmail. By jef : Reviews on Google Play Just great to get email notifications with a simple and easy to use interface. I tried everything else with no success. By UGA : Reviews on Google Play Pretty helpful app, but it is not ready for Windows. By axxoix : Reviews on Google Play It's ok for my gmail account but i've got an issue on the android emulator : i cannot have the option to configurate the number of pending emails per day. I'm not able to read full message because they're too big. By ANTONIE : Reviews on Google Play It's really helpful, If I don't receive any email for a week, I will miss something important. By Daniel : Reviews on Google Play I like this app, it just works. Notifications are good, looks like the most of the others, I just want to give the option to chose if I want to get all emails, or only the important. By greg : Reviews on Google Play Pros It does what I want it to
